My dear Sir

From your last letter I was led to hope that I might have heard from you again ere this but later it is granted you had nothing to communicate - As I find however we are called in the 5th & 6th I should like to know what you think the prospects - The anxiety are certainly from all I hear much divided among themselves, ^{but} their tenaciousness of office will probably be found a bond sufficiently strong to bind together the discordant materials of which they are composed unless as -

-sailed from without — Are they to be allowed to drag on another year without such ~~an~~ demonstration? — Or will it be better to come to the point? — And if so what will be the fittest time? — early in the session or after a few weeks of further absence? & what the manner of attack? These are all questions to be maturely weighed.
And at all events it will be desirable that we should meet at Kingston at least some days before the first day of the session with a view to party-arrangements.
Every thing however must depend upon the lower Canada Reformers.
I regret to say my father's health

Still continues not indifferent - he desires to be kindly remembered to you

Believe me

dear Sir

Yours very truly
